

B1

WRITING

BOOKLET

PROCESS
WRITING

TIMED
WRITING

CONTENT	PAGE
CHAPTER 1 INTRODUCTION TO ESSAY WRITING
• From paragraph to an essay	5
• Self-study practice	10
CHAPTER 2 HOW TO WRITE BODY PARAGRAPHS
• Topic sentence	13
• Writing a body paragraph	16
• Structure of Body Paragraph	18
• In-class essay writing practice I	20
• In-class essay writing practice II	22
CHAPTER 3 HOW TO WRITE AN INTRODUCTORY PARAGRAPH
• Writing a thesis statement	26
• Introduction paragraph	30
CHAPTER 4 HOW TO WRITE A CONCLUDING PARAGRAPH
• How to write a good concluding paragraph	36
CHAPTER 5 ESSAY PRACTICE
• How to write better sentences	44
• In class practice	52
CHAPTER 6 LINKERS & EDITING EXERCISES
• Linkers Part I	60
• Linkers Part II	63
• Linkers part III	65
• Linkers part IV	68
• Linkers part V	71
• Linkers Revision	77
• Editing exercise I: Subject-verb agreement & gerund-infinitive	82
• Editing exercise II: Subject-verb agreement & verb tenses	84
• Editing exercise III	85
• Editing exercise IV	86
• Editing exercise V	87
APPENDIX
• Assessment tools samples
-Process Writing
-Timed Writing
-Paragraph /Essay Grading Criteria

CHAPTER 1:

HOW IS AN ESSAY DIFFERENT FROM A PARAGRAPH

1. Paragraph

As you have already learned in the A2 level, a paragraph has three main sections: a topic sentence, 3 supporting ideas and a conclusion. The topic sentence should state the topic of the paragraph while the supporting ideas give further explanation and examples about the topic. In the concluding sentence, we restate the topic with different words. In the A2 level, paragraphs consist of 120-180 words.

 Please analyse the sample A2 Paragraph below and fill out the outline.

Benefits of Travel

Traveling is beneficial for several reasons. To begin with, traveling broadens the traveller's horizons. Seeing different places either in your own country or in another country will give you a chance to see different lifestyles and different kinds of people. You see that there are alternative ways of doing things such as housing, cooking, practicing religion etc. As a result, you become more tolerant and wiser with different perspectives in your own life and work. Secondly, travelling teaches you many skills. Maybe the skills that are most dramatically affected are social and organizational skills. A traveller has to plan their travels carefully and follow these plans, which will make them better organizers. Also, a traveller has to talk to or even stay with many other people during their time away from home. This will also help them become better communicators. Finally, travelling creates a lot of jobs. Travelling requires many workers in tourism agencies, transportation, accommodation, catering, and a lot of other job areas that depend on visitors. A traveller spends money to meet at least their basic needs in places where they go. More jobs will open if there is more travel. To sum up, travelling is very advantageous for many reasons.

Word count: 203

Topic Sentence: _____

Support 1: _____

Support 2: _____

Support 3: _____

Concluding Sentence: _____

2. Essay

 Please analyse the sample essay below.

	Benefits of Travel
INTRODUCTORY PARAGRAPH Thesis Statement	One of the greatest philosophers, Augustine said, "The world is a book and those who do not travel read only one page." It is a well-known fact that experiences of travel can provide a person a lot of benefits. Not only the traveller, but also an entire country benefit from travel or tourism activities. Obviously, travelling has benefits for the people who travel and for the country's economy.
BODY PARAGRAPH 1 Topic sentence Support 1 Support 2 Concluding Sentence	The first gain of travelling is personal benefits. To begin with, traveling broadens the traveller's horizons. Seeing different places either in their own country or in another country will give travellers a chance to see different lifestyles and different kinds of people. They can realize that there are alternative ways of doing everyday activities such as housing, cooking and practicing religion. As a result, they become more tolerant and wiser with different perspectives in their own life and work. Furthermore, travelling teaches people many skills. Maybe the skills that are most dramatically affected are social and organizational skills. Travellers have to plan their travels carefully and follow these plans, which will make them better organizers. Also, travellers have to talk to, or even stay with many other people during their time away from home. This will also help them become better communicators. In brief, if people want to improve themselves, travelling is definitely the best option for them.
BODY PARAGRAPH 2 Topic sentence Support 1 Support 2 Concluding Sentence	Another gain of travelling is that it benefits a country's economy. To start with, travelling creates a lot of opportunities. Travelling requires many workers in tourism agencies, transportation, accommodation, catering, and a lot of other job areas that depend on visitors. When people travel, they have to spend money to meet at least their basic needs. As a result, this will create more job opportunities in the places which are attractive for tourists. Additionally, people who travel will get new ideas for business wherever they go because they see new businesses and communicate with people who are in different industries. This will give people a chance to build a network for their work. For example, a businessman who travels on a train can meet somebody who does the same business as they do and they can network. As a result, travelling can improve a country's economy.
CONCLUDING PARAGRAPH Paraphrase of thesis statement	In conclusion, travel is useful for both people and businesses. Domestic and international travel will give rise to people who are more equipped and qualified and also economies can improve and become stronger. I think, in addition to being fun, travel is important especially in the globalized world.

Compare the paragraph and the essay and answer the questions below.

1) What is the approximate word count in an essay?

2) How many paragraphs are there in an essay?

3) In a paragraph, the topic sentence states the topic. What states the topic in an essay?

4) In a paragraph, the topic is given in the first sentence. Where can you find it in an essay?

5) How many ideas are there in a thesis statement?

6) Where are these ideas explained?

7) How many supporting ideas do we need for each body paragraph?

8) What follows the supporting ideas?

9) How long should a body paragraph be?

10) What does the last paragraph include?

EXERCISE 1: Read the student essay below. Then prepare an outline for the essay using the outline template on the following page.

Essay Prompt: What are the negative effects of overpopulation in İstanbul?

The Drawbacks of Living in İstanbul

Istanbul is the most important city in Turkey because of not only its geographical location and its beauty but also the job opportunities it provides. Because of these factors, millions of people have been migrating to Istanbul. Today, the population of Istanbul has already exceeded 15 million. Such crowds naturally lead to problems like traffic jams and environmental pollution.

One negative effect of overcrowding is severe traffic jams in Istanbul, which makes it very hard to live in this metropolitan city. Firstly, people spend a long time on the road. For example, anyone who lives in Maltepe and works in Levent has to set off at six o'clock in the morning to go to work. Secondly, people can be aggressive in traffic jams because of spending too much time on the roads. For instance, taxi drivers suffer from psychological distress as they are always stuck in traffic, and makes them behave aggressively. Some drivers can yell and even start fights. In brief, living in Istanbul is very difficult because people get tired and aggressive due to wasting a lot of time in traffic.

Another effect of overpopulation in Istanbul is environmental pollution. To start with, air pollution comes first among the types of pollution in Istanbul. The reason why air pollution is at dangerous levels is that there are thousands of factories and millions of cars without exhaust filters. Factories emit a high amount of carbon dioxide and other hazardous pollutants, which contaminate the air of Istanbul. In addition to air pollution, chemical wastes from a variety of plants and industries cause water pollution. For this reason, it is impossible to have uncontaminated water in homes. To give an example, people who live in İstanbul cannot drink water tap water as they are worried about their health. In short, the high number of people who are living in İstanbul is the main reason of air and water pollution.

All in all, overpopulation in Istanbul results in unavoidable traffic jams and environmental contamination at threatening levels. If we cannot take measures against the rapid rise of Istanbul's population, Istanbul will eventually become a city that is impossible to live in.

Word Count: 359

OUTLINE FOR THE ESSAY

Title: _____

INTRODUCTION:

Thesis Statement : _____

BODY PARAGRAPH 1:

Topic Sentence 1: _____

Support 1: _____

Support 2: _____

BODY PARAGRAPH 2:

Topic Sentence 2: _____

Support 1: _____

Support 2: _____

CONCLUSION:

Paraphrasing the Thesis Statement: _____

SELF STUDY PRACTICE

Prepare an outline for the essay below using the outline template on the following page.

Language Experience Abroad

Language is a crucial component of communication. Everybody agrees that English is an international language which is common all over the world. Most non-English speaking countries teach English language in schools. Although teaching techniques and the quality of language schools are continually developing, many people believe that students should spend some time in an English speaking country in order to learn and use the language properly. Educational experience and a natural language environment are two reasons why it is important for students to spend time in an English speaking country.

The first reason why language students should spend time abroad is educational experience. To begin with, students who study abroad at language schools have a significant advantage because they will be in a multinational environment. To illustrate, in a school in China, students can only communicate in Chinese. However, in a language school in the UK, students are mixed. There are Chinese, Turkish, German and other nationalities, all of whom need to communicate in English. Moreover, students often socialize with their classmates. When the class consists of international students, the students are more likely to use English socially. They do not only spend time together in class but they also meet outside school. When you live abroad you also learn how to function globally. To sum up, spending time abroad in this context helps students to improve their English.

Experiencing language in a natural environment is another reason why it is important for students to spend time abroad. Firstly, students who spend time in an English speaking country will be required to use their English in a natural environment on a daily basis. To explain further, students in a language school in Turkey might practice how to order food in a café through role-play, but students living in the UK will actually have to order food from a café. Secondly, students learning English in their home countries might do listening exercises or watch films to improve their listening skills, but students living in the UK have the opportunity to listen to English being spoken naturally all day every day. In short, being in an environment where English is the native language is one reason why it is important for students to spend time in an English speaking country.

In conclusion, the two important reasons why students of English should spend some time living in an English speaking country are gaining educational experience and having the chance of learning a language in its natural environment. Although spending time in an English speaking country is advantageous for students, it is important to remember that it is not the only way to acquire a high language level. I believe that many students can successfully reach a high level of proficiency in a second language through hard work and dedication.

OUTLINE FOR THE ESSAY

Title: _____

INTRODUCTION:

Thesis Statement : _____

BODY PARAGRAPH 1:

Topic Sentence 1: _____

Support 1: _____

Support 2: _____

BODY PARAGRAPH 2:

Topic Sentence 2: _____

Support 1: _____

Support 2: _____

CONCLUSION:

Paraphrasing the Thesis Statement: _____

CHAPTER 2:

HOW TO WRITE

BODY PARAGRAPHS

As you have already learned in Chapter 1, an essay has two body paragraphs. In B1 level, a body paragraph must be at least 100 words, and it must have a minimum of two supporting ideas. In the Process Writing Exam, you will be responsible for writing only two body paragraphs.

While writing your body paragraphs:

1. Make sure you include a topic sentence, which states the main idea of the paragraph and supports the thesis statement of the essay.
2. Explain and support the topic sentence with details including examples, facts and statistics.
3. Arrange the main ideas in a clear order. Be sure that each paragraph is clear, unified, well developed, organized and coherent.
4. Do not write paragraphs that are too long or too short. Each of your body paragraphs should be at least 100 words long. If the paragraph is too short, try to develop it with examples and details. Make sure that you do not repeat your ideas.
5. Try to avoid writing about your personal opinion, instead focus on facts.
6. In your body paragraphs, you should have only one idea, which supports the thesis statement.

How to Write Topic Sentences for Body Paragraphs By looking at The Thesis Statement

Thesis Statement with two main ideas

Support A & Support B

Body 1

Body 2

Topic Sentence

Topic Sentence

Essay Prompt: 'What are the two main disadvantages of living in Istanbul?'

Thesis Statement: The two drawbacks of living in Istanbul are air pollution and heavy traffic.

The two drawbacks of living in Istanbul are air pollution and heavy traffic.

Support A

Support B

Body 1

Body 2

Topic Sentence

Topic Sentence

One of the main drawbacks of living in Istanbul is air pollution.

Another drawback of living in Istanbul is heavy traffic.

1. One of the main drawbacks of living in Istanbul is air pollution.

Transition signal

Essay Topic

Paragraph Topic

2. Another drawback of living in Istanbul is heavy traffic.

Transition signal

Essay Topic

Paragraph Topic

EXERCISE 1: Write the topic sentences for the thesis statements given below.

Example:

Thesis Statement: The two main drawbacks of smoking are having health and financial problems.

Topic Sentence 1: The first drawback of smoking is health problems.

Topic Sentence 2: Another disadvantage of smoking is financial problems.

1. Thesis Statement: Putting on weight and increasing the risk of diabetes are the two important drawbacks of sleeping too much.

Topic Sentence 1:

Topic Sentence 2:

2. Thesis Statement: The major reasons why people follow fashion are impressing others and proving their identity.

Topic Sentence 1:

Topic Sentence 2:

3. Thesis Statement: Learning a new culture and communicating with people abroad are two important benefits of learning English.

Topic Sentence 1:

Topic Sentence 2:

4. Thesis Statement: Health issues and social problems are the most significant effects of alcohol use on individuals.

Topic Sentence 1:

Topic Sentence 2:

5. Thesis Statement: Investing money in real estate and limiting unnecessary expenses are the ways of saving money.

Topic Sentence 1:

Topic Sentence 2:

*For variety in topic sentences of two body paragraphs, you can change the order of essay topic, paragraph topic and the transition signal:

TRANSITION	ESSAY TOPIC	PARAGRAPH TOPIC
The main drawback	of living in Istanbul	is heavy traffic.

PARAGRAPH TOPIC	TRANSITION	ESSAY TOPIC
Heavy traffic is	the main drawback	of living in Istanbul.

EXERCISE 2: Read the topic sentences below. Then, try to change the place of the essay topic, paragraph topic and the transition signal.

1. The main reason why women follow fashion is that they are indecisive.

2. The main benefit of living in Istanbul is the variety of cultural activities.

3. A further gain of living in a metropolitan city is experiencing different cultures.

4. The major cause of global warming is exhaust fumes.

5. The biggest effect of floods is that they lead to epidemics.

Essay Topic: What are the drawbacks of smoking?

Many people form a variety of habits to deal with certain challenges in life. Some of these habits can be beneficial for them like doing sports as it helps people to become physically strong. However, there are also others which can cause some problems in people's lives such as smoking. The two drawbacks of smoking is suffering from health issues and having financial problems.

Health issues are the first disadvantage of smoking. To begin with, the effects of smoking on the lung can cause serious health issues. As smokers inhale dangerous chemicals while smoking, it changes the delivery of oxygen to the human body. As a result of this, smoking diminishes lung function, which results in shortness of breath. Moreover, smoking also influences the heart negatively. Since the chemicals make the vessels harder and narrower than non-smokers, it accelerates the risk of having a heart attack for smokers. Therefore, they might die due to having a sudden heart attack. To sum up, smoking has significant negative effects on the lung and the heart.

Another disadvantage of smoking is having financial problems.

In conclusion, health and financial problems are the two disadvantages of smoking. If people smoke, the quality of their life will dramatically decrease because they will lose both their health and money. In my opinion, people must stay away from bad habits like smoking in order to have a healthy and prosperous life.

EXERCISE 4: Read the topic sentences below and find two supporting details for them.

Example:

The biggest drawback of smoking is suffering from some major health issues.

1. The main reason why women follow fashion is that they are indecisive.

- _____
- _____

2. The main benefit of living in Istanbul is the variety of cultural activities.

- _____
- _____

3. A further gain of living in a small city is saving time.

- _____
- _____

4. The major cause of global warming is exhaust fumes.

- _____
- _____

5. The biggest effect of floods is epidemics.

- _____
- _____

Structure of Body Paragraphs

Body 1:

The first way
The first reason
The first benefit
The first drawback
The first advantage of (essay topic) is (paragraph topic 1).

To begin with,
To start with,
In the first place,
Firstly,

SUPPORTING IDEA 1

Details
Examples

In addition,
Furthermore,
What's more,
Moreover,
Also,

SUPPORTING IDEA 2

Details
Examples

In short,
To sum up,
In summary,
Shortly,
In brief,
All in all,

(paragraph 1 topic) is the main
the most important
the most notable
the most noteworthy

way reason benefit drawback advantage of (essay topic).

Body 2:

The second way
The second reason
The second benefit
The second drawback
The second advantage of (essay topic) is (paragraph topic 2).

To begin with,
To start with,
In the first place,
Firstly,

SUPPORTING IDEA 1

Details
Examples

In addition,
Furthermore,
What's more,
Moreover,
Also,

SUPPORTING IDEA 2

Details
Examples

In short,
To sum up,
In summary,
Shortly,
In brief,
All in all,

(paragraph 2 topic) is the main
the most important
the most notable
the most noteworthy

way reason benefit
drawback
advantage

of (essay topic).

In Class Practice 1

Essay Prompt: 'It is a good idea to work for the same company for your entire life?' Do you agree or disagree with this statement?

Fill in the brainstorming chart below; then, write two body 2 paragraphs to complete the essay given on the following page.

TITLE: Working For the Same Company

INTRODUCTORY PARAGRAPH	Thesis Statement:
BODY PARAGRAPH 1	Support 1:
	Support 2:
	Concluding Sentence:
BODY PARAGRAPH 2	Support 1:
	Support 2:
	Concluding Sentence:
CONCLUDING PARAGRAPH	Paraphrase of Thesis Statement:

Do you know anybody around you who started working at a place and plans to stay and work there for over thirty years? This is now hard to come by, but this was how people planned their career until a couple decades ago. It was desirable to work at the same workplace because it would ensure promotion, and an annual increase in income. It is easy to see the benefits of being employed by the same firm; however this doesn't mean there aren't any drawbacks. The two main disadvantages of working for the same company all your life are _____ and _____.

[illegible][illegible]

21

In Class Practice 2

Essay Prompt: How can we prepare for exams?

TITLE: _____

INTRODUCTORY PARAGRAPH	Thesis Statement:
BODY PARAGRAPH 1	Support 1:
	Support 2:
	Concluding Sentence:
BODY PARAGRAPH 2	Support 1:
	Support 2:
	Concluding Sentence:
CONCLUDING PARAGRAPH	Paraphrase of Thesis Statement:

Write two body paragraphs for the essay topic 'How can we prepare for exams?' Use the chart above to brainstorm.

While writing your body paragraphs, please keep these points below in mind:

- Use the linkers you have practiced in class so far.
- Try to use the grammar structures you have learned.
- Include some of the new words you have learned so far.

[illegible]

[illegible]

CHAPTER 3: HOW TO WRITE AN INTRODUCTORY PARAGRAPH

Before we start with the introduction paragraph, let's have a look at Thesis Statements in detail:

The thesis statement is the most specific statement of the introduction paragraph. It is also the most important sentence in the essay because it contains the main idea for the whole essay. Just as supporting sentences directly support the topic sentence in a paragraph, the body paragraphs must support the thesis statement in the essay. With a good thesis statement, the reader should understand the essay topic as well as the subtopics the writer will discuss in Body 1 and Body 2.

Rules for Writing a Good Thesis Statement

- A thesis statement must be a complete sentence. This means it must at least have a subject and a verb with a tense.

Incorrect: The effects of natural disasters.

Correct: The two main effects of natural disasters are famine and epidemics.

- A thesis statement must be a statement. I cannot be in the form of a question.

Incorrect: What are the causes of cancer?

Correct: The causes of cancer are smoking and stress.

- A thesis statement must take a position. It cannot be a simple fact as a fact does not need any support so you cannot write an essay about it.

Incorrect: A car is faster than a bicycle.

Correct: A bicycle is more convenient and economical than a car.

- A thesis statement must state the essay topic together with its subtopics. Subtopics are the main ideas for Body 1 and Body 2.

Incorrect: Having a flatmate is advantageous.

Correct: The gains of having a flatmate are sharing the housework and sharing your problems.

- A thesis statement should not be too general or too specific. If it is too general or too specific, you may not be able to prove it in one essay.

Too general: Preparing food is fun.

Too specific: A drawback of preparing food is cutting your finger.

EXERCISE 1: Read the thesis statements below and identify the problem(s).

THESIS STATEMENTS	PROBLEMS
The population of the USA is higher than the population of Turkey.
What are the causes of failure at school?
Eating sushi with chopsticks has many drawbacks.
Time is important.
The effects of too much working.

Writing Thesis Statements in Different Forms

There is no exact way to write a thesis statement. The important point is to include the essay topic and the subtopics of Body 1 and Body 2 in a grammatically correct meaningful sentence.

As it has been pointed out in the previous chapters, a good essay begins with a good outline. In outlines writing long sentences is unnecessary so phrases are enough. They can be nouns, adjectives, verbs etc. However, when we write the thesis statement we must be careful about the word form.

Let's try to understand it better by analysing the examples below:

Essay Prompt: Qualities of a Good Teacher

Subtopics: working hard (Body 1) & helping students (Body 2)

*When we look at the example above, we can see that the essay is about the qualities of a good teacher. Body 1 will focus on working hard and Body 2 will focus on helping students. Now we have to combine all these in a grammatically correct sentence.

Version 1: The qualities of a good teacher are working hard and helping students.

Version 2: A good teacher should work hard and help students.

Version 3: The qualities of a good teacher are being hardworking and being helpful.

Version 4: A good teacher must be hardworking and helpful.

Version 5: The qualities that a good teacher should have are helpfulness and hard work.

Version 6:

The qualities of a good teacher are that a good teacher always helps her students and she works hard.

📖 As you can see, sometimes we use nouns, verbs or adjectives. It all depends on how you start forming your thesis statement

EXERCISE 2: Look at the thesis statements below and change their structure.

1. A good flatmate is always tidy and clean. (NOUN PHRASE)

2. A good car has a low price and goes fast. (SENTENCE)

3. The two drawbacks of junk food are that they make children sick and addicted. (NOUN PHRASE)

4. The reason why people buy computers is that they can use them to communicate and to have fun. (NOUN)

5. The two major effects of war are that people die and countries are destroyed. (NOUN)

6. Honesty and sincerity are two important characteristics of a good friend. (ADJECTIVE)

EXERCISE 3: Write thesis statements for the essays prompts below.

1. Why have couples stopped having children in the last 10 years?

Thesis Statement:

2. What are the effects of eating junk food?

Thesis Statement:

3. What are the causes of traffic accidents?

Thesis Statement:

4. What are the drawbacks of being illiterate?

Thesis Statement:

5. What are the benefits of an apprenticeship?

Thesis Statement:

6. What makes children happy?

Thesis Statement:

7. How can people be healthier?

Thesis Statement:

8. How can we avoid stress?

Thesis Statement:

The Introduction Paragraph

- The first paragraph in an essay is called the introduction paragraph. It usually consists of 4 to 6 sentences.
- A good introduction should start with a hook or a general statement to attract the reader's attention.

Here are some hooks in an essay on the topic 'THE INTERNET'.

1. Include an Interesting Fact or Definition

Example: Today %40 of the population is using the Internet.

2. Pose a Question

Example: Have you ever wondered what life would be like without the Internet?

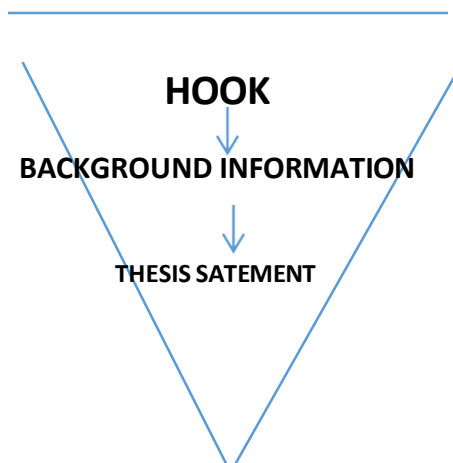

3. Quotes from Famous People

Example: As once Bill Gates said "The Internet is becoming the town square for the global village of tomorrow."

- After the hook, we give background information so that the reader can understand the topic. We move from a general discussion of the topic to a specific statement.

Here are some strategies that you can use:

NARROWING DOWN

1. Comparing past and present

Essay Topic: What makes a good teacher?

In the past, teachers only needed to be strong. A teacher was a powerful figure, and the most important thing was to let the students know that he was powerful. However, over the last thirty years, the relationship between student and teacher has changed, and the skills a teacher needs are now very different. Today a good teacher has to be patient and helpful.

Useful expressions:

In the past, (+ simple past)

Up until now (+ present perfect)

Recently (+present perfect)

Over the last few/ five / thirty years / decades (+ present perfect)

These days / Nowadays / Today (+ present tenses)

2. Comparing the situation in your country with the rest of the world.

Essay Topic: What are the causes of traffic accidents?

Did you know that more than one million people died last year in traffic accidents? Eighty percent of road traffic deaths occurred in middle-income countries. Most of these countries are located in the African region. In Europe, the number of accidents dropped significantly. In Germany and Greece, about 3000 people died but in Turkey the number is 7500. Why are there so many fatal accidents in Turkey? The two major causes of traffic accidents in our country are being drunk and ignoring traffic rules.

Useful expressions:

All over the world

In other countries

Everywhere

In the rest of the world

In the Western world / In the West

In the developing / underdeveloped / third world / developed countries

3. Giving the other side of the argument.

Essay Topic: What are the drawbacks/negative effects of fast food?

Do you find time to cook or is ordering fast food more convenient for you? Most people argue that fast food has many benefits. They support that it is time saving and delicious. However, fast food such as hamburgers and French fries can't be beneficial for our bodies and we should avoid them. The two major harms of fast food are putting on weight and losing your appetite.

Useful expressions:

Some people believe / support / claim that.....

A group of people argue /discuss that....

They agree /disagree with the people who say / think.....

EXERCISE 4: Put the sentences in the correct order so that you have an introduction paragraph moving from general statements to the thesis statement.

- a. It is now impossible to imagine dealing with business or learning activities without computers.
- b. As a major part of everyday life, the computer has totally changed the way we work and the way we study.
- c. In existence for only a few decades, personal computers have had a major impact on modern society, especially in the fields of commerce and education.
- d. Throughout human existence, man has tried to develop and use new and more beneficial tools in order to improve his standard of living.
- e. The modern computer is the most recent of these life changing tools.

- a. Most of us had good and bad times with our classmates. Most of them even influenced us.
- b. Our school years make up the majority of our memories when we start thinking about the old days.
- c. Not only friends but also some extraordinary teachers had a big effect on our lives.
- d. They did not only teach us but also trained us for the real world.
- e. The two main qualities teachers had in the past were patience and forgiveness.

- a. Online shopping offers its users lots of conveniences.
- b. Clearly, the developments in technology and new inventions have made life much easier.
- c. Thanks to the Internet, people have the chance to do only shopping.
- d. The two main advantages of online shopping are low prices and variety.
- e. Obviously, after the arrival of the Internet, life is not only easier but also more fun.

- a. There are many different types of pollution, such as air, water, and soil pollution.
- b. Pollution is one of the biggest problems which is facing the world today.
- c. However, they all have one thing in common: their effects on human beings.
- d. There are various effects of pollution on human life, but the most important effects of pollution are on human's health and psychology.
- e. These are caused by many different factors, such as exhaust fumes, oil spills and radiation leaks.

Sample Introduction Paragraphs

Essay Prompt: What are the advantages of being famous?

People have many wishes in their lives, and they try hard to reach these wishes. Nowadays, it seems that fame is very desirable for many people. Fame seems to appeal everyone due to its attraction and glamour. For this reason, a lot of people wish to be famous even for a day in their lives. Although fame comes with some difficulties, these people focus more on the advantages of being famous. Earning a lot of money and being the center of attention are the two advantages of being famous.

Essay Prompt: What are the effects of eating junk food?

It is a fact that people must consume food to survive. Depending on a variety of factors such as the region where people live or the age group which people are in, food choices of people can be different from one another. However, there is one type of food which everybody likes: junk food. Despite being the favorite of many people, eating junk food has two negative effects on people: obesity and early aging.

EXERCISE 6: Read the thesis statements below and write introduction paragraphs for them.

1. Essay Prompt: What are the results of stress?

The two major results of stress are depression and divorce.

2. Essay Prompt: Why don't people work for the same company all their lives?

_____ The two key factors why working people keep changing companies are monotony and curiosity.

CHAPTER 4:

HOW TO WRITE A CONCLUDING PARAGRAPH

The concluding paragraph is the last paragraph in an essay and it is shorter than the other paragraphs.

- It begins with a signal word and restates the thesis statement in different words. This is called paraphrasing. When we paraphrase something, we change the words but keep the meaning. While paraphrasing the thesis statement in the concluding paragraph, we can use synonyms, antonyms or alternative word forms.
- After restating the thesis statement, it is important to write your final thoughts about the subject. This may be in the form of a prediction, advice, recommendation, solution or even a question. We should keep in mind that there must be a signal word before we present our final opinion.
- While writing the concluding paragraph, we must avoid presenting new ideas. In other words, all the ideas in the concluding paragraph must support the thesis statement and the essay topic.

Essay Prompt: What are the advantages of being famous?

Introduction Paragraph

People have many wishes in their lives, and they try hard to reach these wishes. Nowadays, it seems that fame is very desirable for many people. Fame seems to appeal everyone due to its attraction and glamour. For this reason, a lot of people wish to be famous even for a day in their lives. Although fame comes with some difficulties, these people focus more on the advantages of being famous. Earning a lot of money and being the center of attention are the two advantages of being famous.

Concluding Paragraph

In brief, the most significant benefits of being famous are having a good financial condition and getting a lot of attention. In my opinion, it is normal for people to be famous as everybody likes living in luxury and being the dear of fans, but the most important question is whether it is worth it or not.

Essay Prompt: What are the effects of eating junk food?

Introduction Paragraph

It is a fact that people must consume food to survive. Depending on a variety of factors such as the region where people live or the age group which people are in, food choices of people can be different from one another. However, there is one type of food which everybody likes: junk food. Despite being the favorite of many people, eating junk food has two negative effects on people: obesity and early aging.

Concluding Paragraph

To conclude, the two negative effects of consuming junk food on people are obesity and early aging. I firmly believe that people must be aware of the dangers which might result in eating junk food and they must find ways to keep young generations away from it.

How to Write A Good Concluding Paragraph

1. Using Synonyms or Antonyms

Let's analyse a sample concluding paragraph. You can use synonyms or antonyms to restate a thesis statement.

Example 1:

Essay Prompt: Why do young people join gangs?

Thesis Statement:

The two reasons why young people join gangs are psychological comfort and violence.

Concluding Paragraph:

In conclusion, because of mental relief and brutality young people are pushed towards gangs.

signal word

restatement of thesis statement

Most cities have gangs which are made up of young people, teenagers, even children. They don't make these choices most of the time. I believe that it is the environment that encourages, and even signal word

expressing final thought forces them to be part of gangs. It is our society and government's responsibility to lead them to better options and a better future.

(Word count:72)

Please pay attention to the use of synonyms in the example above. The writer uses the words mental relief for psychological comfort and brutality instead of violence. The writer uses the structure I believe to present his final thought Example 2: Let's analyse another concluding paragraph.

Essay Prompt:

What are the disadvantages of working for the same company during your entire career?

Thesis Statement: The two main disadvantages of working for the same company all your life are lack of enthusiasm and not improving your skills.

Concluding Paragraph:

To conclude, although you can have some benefits when you work at the same place for a long signal word restatement of thesis statement time, you have to think of the disadvantages such as demotivation and lack of improvement in your skills. Nowadays, working for the same company for more than ten years is not even considered positive in many areas of work. To my way of thinking, people should make a new start in their signal word expressing final thought careers if they feel they are in a monotonous working environment.

- ☞ Once again, please focus on the use of synonyms in the example above. The writer uses the words demotivation for lack of enthusiasm and unimproved skills instead of not improving skills. The writer uses the structure To my way of thinking to present his final thought.

2. Changing Word Forms

You can also change word forms to restate the thesis statement.

Essay Prompt: Why do you think teenagers use violence against one another?

Thesis Statement: The two significant reasons why teenagers use violence against one another are witnessing violence and easy access to drugs and alcohol.

Concluding Paragraph:

In conclusion, since young people witness violence and have an easy access to drugs and alcohol, signal word restatement of thesis statement
they become violent. Therefore, governments should urgently take action to resolve this issue.
I think that it is necessary to raise teenagers' awareness because violence does not resolve any signal word expressing final thought conflict but only complicates things further.

- ☞ Please focus on the use of word forms in the example above. The writer uses the words witness (v) for witnessing (n) and access (v) instead of access (n). The writer uses the structure I think to present his final thought.

EXERCISE 1: Restate the thesis statements below with different wording for concluding paragraphs.

1. A good manager should respect his employees and be open to new ideas.

2. The two main causes of traffic in Istanbul are that there are too many cars and not enough roads.

3. What affects children's success at school is staying up late and lack of concentration.

4. The two main reasons why people smoke a lot are depression and financial problems.

5. The two major drawbacks of living in a town are insufficient job opportunities and bad health service.

EXERCISE 2: Read the concluding sentences below and write final thoughts for them.

You can start with the following transition signals:

In my opinion,	It seems to me that,	It is my firm belief that,
To my mind,	I think that,	To my way of thinking,

1. In conclusion, a good manager should respect his employers and be open to new ideas.

2. Taking everything into consideration, the two main causes of traffic in Istanbul are that there are too many cars but not enough roads.

3. All things considered, what affects children's success at school are staying up late and lack of concentration.

4. To sum up, the two main reasons why people smoke a lot are depression and financial problems.

5. All in all, the two major drawbacks of living in a town are insufficient job opportunities and bad health service.

EXERCISE 3: Analyse the sample introductions below and write concluding paragraphs for them.

A Good Teacher

In the past, teachers only needed to be strong. A teacher was a powerful figure, and the most important thing was to let the students know that he was powerful. However, over the last thirty years, the relationship between student and teacher has changed, and the skills a teacher needs are now very different. Today a good teacher has to be patient and helpful.

Traffic Accidents

Did you know that more than one million people died last year in traffic accidents? Eighty per cent of road traffic deaths occurred in middle-income countries. Most of these countries are located in the African region. In Europe, the number of accidents drops significantly. In Germany and Greece about 3000 people died but in Turkey the number is 7500. Why are there so many fatal accidents in Turkey? The two major causes of traffic accidents in our country are being drunk and ignoring traffic rules.

Fast Food

Do you find time to cook, or is ordering fast food more convenient for you? Most people argue that fast food has many benefits. They support that it is time saving and delicious. However, fast food such as hamburgers and French fries can't be beneficial for our bodies and we should avoid them. The two major harms of fast food are putting on weight and losing appetite.

EXERCISE 4: Analyse the sample essay below and discuss the strong and weak points of it with your partner.

Finding the Best University

It is a common knowledge that education plays an important role in people's lives. Since their childhood everybody has been looking for the best schools and the teachers to receive a good education. The pinnacle of education is to have a university degree. However, not every university may meet people's expectations. In order to state that they are a graduate of a good university, there should be some requirements to be met. A good university should have qualified teachers and social facilities for students.

First of all, a good university must have qualified teachers for each course. To begin with, qualified teachers should have effective teaching skills in their subjects. Without these skills, it will be difficult for the teacher to transfer his/her knowledge to the students, and it will be challenging for the students as well to receive the information or to enjoy the lessons. If students lose their interests towards the lesson, they may have attendance problems, which may cause failure. Moreover, the teacher should have a personality that matches with being a good teacher, which means that a teacher should be kind, supportive and understanding to his/her students. Otherwise, communication and trust issues can occur. This affects students' success in their educational lives. Therefore, qualified teachers are one of the most important parts of a good university.

Another quality of a good university is having social facilities for students. Firstly, there must be enough sports centres and cafes for students to spend their free time with their friends. Since students spend most of their time studying at school, they need a place to rest and chat with their friends at the cafes in the campus. Students sometimes need to get over their stress by spending time in a sports centre. If there is a good sports centre in the campus, students can play basketball, do yoga, run, and all of this can reduce their stress. Secondly, student clubs are the best way of socializing and making new friends. In such clubs, students will have a chance to meet other students from different departments and they will also learn from each other. To illustrate, they can exchange information and broaden their horizons in terms of both academic and social aspects. Thus, besides qualified teachers, a good university should provide social opportunities to its students.

In conclusion, universities should support the learning process with qualified teachers and many social facilities, as they are places where students spend the most important stage of their lives. Students should become familiar with all these characteristics so that they can choose a good university, which will affect their future.

CHAPTER 5

ESSAY PRACTICE

HOW TO WRITE BETTER SENTENCES

As you already know, one of the expectations of a good essay in the Intermediate is level appropriate grammar. In Elementary, you learned simple sentences and in Pre-intermediate they taught you compound sentences. In Intermediate, it is time to use complex sentences.

A. You can make your sentences more advanced by using these subordinating conjunctions.

After	even though	when although	if	whenever
as	since	whereas because	though	wherever before	unless	while until

1. Because Paul did not remind me about the meeting, I totally forgot about it.

Dependent clause

Independent clause (complete sentence)

2. While I was walking to school, I realized that I forgot my wallet.

Dependent clause

Independent clause (complete sentence)

3. After the police arrested the suspect, they took him to prison.

Dependent clause

Independent clause (complete sentence)

4. The body guards did not let us in the bar, although we were old enough to enter

Independent clause (complete sentence)

Dependent clause

B. Besides using complex sentences, another way to write better sentences is to use synonyms, antonyms, linking words and a variety of grammar structures.

 Let's see how we can write the same sentence in different forms.

Playing sports offers energy.

Playing sports provides energy.

If you play sports, you feel energetic.

When you play sports, you feel energetic.

Playing sports enables us to feel energetic.

Obviously, one way to feel energetic is playing sports.

Undeniably, people feel energetic when they play sports.

There is no doubt that you feel energetic if play sports.

Everybody has the chance to feel energetic by playing sports.

Many people claim that playing sports supplies you with lots of energy.

Apparently, everybody agrees that playing sports helps people feel energetic.

C. As you improve your writing ability, you should avoid simple structures. The most common modal students use in their essays is can / can't.

☞ Let's see how we write the same sentence without changing its meaning.

When you study at Şehir University, you can use online sources in the library.

When you study at Şehir University, you have the opportunity to use online sources in the library.

When you study at Şehir University, you have the chance to use online sources in the library.

When you study at Şehir University, you have the possibility to use online sources in the library.

When you study at Şehir University, it is possible to use online sources in the library.

D. Another common modal verb students use is have to / (not) have to.

☞ Let's see how we write the same sentence without changing its meaning.

Students do not have to wear uniforms at university.

It is not compulsory for students to wear uniforms at university.

It is not obligatory for students to wear uniforms at university.

It is not mandatory for students to wear uniforms at university.

E. Another common modal verb students use is need to / (not) need to.

☞ Let's see how we write the same sentence without changing its meaning.

Candidates need to focus more on computer skills to find a good job.

It is essential for candidates to focus more on computer skills to find a good job.

It is crucial for candidates to focus more on computer skills to find a good job.

It is vital for candidates to focus more on computer skills to find a good job.

You do not need to get a university degree to be successful in life.

It is not essential for you to get a university degree to be successful in life.

It is not crucial for you to get a university degree to be successful in life.

It is not vital for you to get a university degree to be successful in life.

EXERCISE 1: Rewrite the sentences using the words in the brackets.

- 1) You can benefit from a variety of social facilities in this university.
(opportunity/ chance/ possibility)
-

- 2) You don't have to take this course because it is elective.
(compulsory/ obligatory)
-

- 3) Living in a big city provides people with a lot of opportunities.
(when/ advantage)
-

📖 Please do not forget that you must use level appropriate grammar in your essays.

📖 In your essays, teachers expect to see the structures below:

1. A variety of tenses
2. Relative clauses
3. Comparative / Superlative adjectives
4. Passive Voice
5. Modal verbs
6. If Clauses

EXERCISE 2: Please compare the two paragraphs below to see the difference in level appropriate grammar.

Another quality of a good university is having social facilities for students. Firstly, there must be enough sports centres and cafes for students to spend their free time with their friends. Since students spend most of their time studying at school, they need a place to rest and chat with their friends at the cafes in the campus. Students sometimes need to get over their stress by spending time in a sports centre. If there is a good sports centre in the campus, students will play basketball, do yoga, run and reduce their stress. Secondly, student clubs are the best way of socializing and making new friends. In such clubs, students will have a chance to meet other students from different departments and they will also learn from each other. To illustrate, they can exchange information and broaden their horizons in terms of both academic and social aspects. Thus, besides qualified teachers, a good university should provide social opportunities to its students.

Another quality of a good university is having social facilities for students. Firstly, there must be enough sports centres and cafes where students have the opportunity to spend their free time with their friends in the most effective way. Students who spend most of their time studying at school, need a place to rest and chat with their friends. In addition, students sometimes need to get over their stress by spending time in a sports centre. If there is a good sports centre in the campus, students will play basketball, do yoga, run and reduce their stress. Secondly, there is no better way than student clubs to socialize. In such clubs, students will have a chance to meet other students from different departments and they will also learn from each other. To illustrate, information can be exchanged so they can broaden their horizons in terms of both academic and social aspects. Thus, a university would be good if it had social opportunities to its students.

Essay Checklist- Sample Essay 1

Use the essay checklist below to analyze the sample student essays. Put a ☺ if you think the essay has the necessary items in the criteria below. Write your notes into the space provided.

	☺ / ☹	Notes
The introduction narrows down successfully.
The thesis statement shows the main ideas of body paragraphs.
The body paragraphs have an effective topic sentence.
The body paragraphs have an effective concluding sentence.
There is a wide range of linkers/transitions. (Moreover, Besides, Therefore, However, Although...)
There are 2 supporting ideas in each body paragraph.
Supporting ideas are relevant to the essay question.
There are enough details/examples.
Details/examples are relevant to the supporting ideas.
Supporting ideas are not repetitive.
There are a wide range of INT. grammar structures. (relative clauses, passive voice, comparative adj, modals.....)
There is successful use of punctuation and capitalization.
There is a wide range of INT vocabulary.
The concluding paragraph includes the restatement of the Thesis Statement.
The essay ends with the opinion of the writer.

Sample Essay 1

Essay Prompt: What are the benefits of living abroad?

Choosing to live abroad is never an easy decision. People who leave their family, friends and home behind in order to move to a foreign country often become home sick and many of them eventually return to their country. It is impossible to avoid culture shock. However, we should remember that moving abroad may benefit us in many ways. The two main advantages of living in a foreign country are education and job opportunities as well as learning about other cultures.

The first advantage of living abroad is opportunities for development. To start with, students have good chances of getting into a foreign university in a country of their choice. To illustrate, student exchange programs like Erasmus allow them to live up to a year in a foreign country and many of them later decide to stay and continue in order to complete their education and gain a degree which will be useful when looking for jobs. Moreover, most companies look for employees based on their level of professionalism and are happy to employ foreigners. Companies like L'Oréal or Google with offices around the world offer well-paid jobs and opportunities for professional development to foreign workers which allows for professional success. Without a doubt making a decision to live abroad in order to gain good education or get a good job is beneficial.

The second major advantage of choosing a life abroad is becoming more open-minded to cultures different than our own. To begin with, living in a foreign country means not only learning to communicate in another language but also getting to know and respect culture and different mentality of people of a country. Sometimes behavior which is strange or unacceptable in our home country, is normal in somewhere else. This teaches us to be open-minded to cultural diversities, differences and therefore develop ourselves as human beings. Also, once we have become used to living in another culture, it eventually results in us having two homes. The one where we were born in and grew up and the second home country where we decided to spend our lives in. In short, through opening ourselves to other cultures we enrich ourselves.

In conclusion, even though it is not an easy decision, the advantages of living abroad significantly outweigh the disadvantages, since education and career opportunities as well as learning to be more open-minded and respectful towards other cultures eventually make us more successful in life.

Essay Checklist- Sample Essay 2

Use the essay checklist below to analyze the sample student essays. Put a ☺ if you think the essay has the necessary items in the criteria below. Write your notes into the space provided.

	☺ / ☹	Notes
The introduction narrows down successfully.
The thesis statement shows the main ideas of body paragraphs.
The body paragraphs have an effective topic sentence.
The body paragraphs have an effective concluding sentence.
There is a wide range of linkers/transitions. (Moreover, Besides, Therefore, However, Although...)
There are 2 supporting ideas in each body paragraph.
Supporting ideas are relevant to the essay question.
There are enough details/examples.
Details/examples are relevant to the supporting ideas.
Supporting ideas are not repetitive.
There are a wide range of INT. grammar structures. (relative clauses, passive voice, comparative adj, modals.....)
There is successful use of punctuation and capitalization.
There is a wide range of INT vocabulary.
The concluding paragraph includes the restatement of the Thesis Statement.
The essay ends with the opinion of the writer.

Sample Essay 2

Essay Prompt: What are the benefits of eating at home?

These days, we are busier and busier and more people are eating at restaurants or grabbing sandwiches from coffee or sandwich shops. In contrast, people used to eat at home with their families. The food was prepared by someone in the family, and they knew what ingredients went into the preparation. There are many advantages of eating at home and two of those advantages are: being able to eat healthier meals and to save money.

To begin with, when you eat at home, it is easier to eat healthier meals. Firstly, when you want to prepare a meal, you can go to a vegetable market or the grocery store and then include vegetables in your diet when cooking meals. Furthermore, you can ensure that they're fresh rather than overly ripe. Secondly, you can make sure to have meals that don't include preservatives. Thus, you can avoid ingredients that are unhealthy or that may cause you allergies. In order to have a healthier diet that includes fresh vegetables and doesn't include harmful preservatives, it is beneficial to cook at home.

Another important advantage of cooking at home is being able to save money. Firstly, when you go outside to eat, the restaurants that serve you have to pay the costs of running the business and that's included in the cost of your meal. For example, you would be paying for the wages of the servers, cooks, the utilities etc... If you opt to cook at home, you only would be paying for the costs associated with the costs of your ingredients. Secondly, you don't have to spend the money associated with traveling to restaurants. If you go to a restaurant, you have to pay for gas if you're going by car. In addition, you may end up spending money on parking if you have a car. In brief, it would definitely help you to save money if you're not paying for the costs associated with eating and going to restaurant.

In conclusion, from the stand-point of saving money and keeping healthy, it is much more beneficial to eat at home rather than outside. You would ensure that you're eating healthy meals and avoiding harmful ingredients. Furthermore, since it costs money to run a restaurant and to go to one, you would have to pay more for your meals in the end. Consider the importance of eating more often at home to save money, it could also extend your life, not to mention your budget.

In Class Practice

Essay Prompt: How can young people be encouraged to appreciate science?

TITLE: _____

INTRODUCTORY PARAGRAPH	Thesis Statement:
BODY PARAGRAPH 1	Support 1:
	Support 2:
	Concluding Sentence:
BODY PARAGRAPH 2	Support 1:
	Support 2:
	Concluding Sentence:
CONCLUDING PARAGRAPH	Paraphrase of Thesis Statement:

Write two body paragraphs for the essay topic 'How can we prepare for exams?' Use the chart above to brainstorm.

While writing your body paragraphs, please keep these points below in mind:

- Use the linkers you have practiced in class so far.
- Try to use the grammar structures you have learned.
- Include some of the new words you have learned so far.

[illegible]

This image shows a single page of white paper with horizontal blue or grey ruling lines. The lines are evenly spaced and run across the width of the page, leaving small margins at the top and bottom. There are no vertical margin lines, and the page is completely blank except for the lines themselves.

In Class Practice

Essay Prompt: What are the benefits of games for young people?

TITLE: _____

INTRODUCTORY PARAGRAPH	Thesis Statement:
BODY PARAGRAPH 1	Support 1:
	Support 2:
	Concluding Sentence:
BODY PARAGRAPH 2	Support 1:
	Support 2:
	Concluding Sentence:
CONCLUDING PARAGRAPH	Paraphrase of Thesis Statement:

Write two body paragraphs for the essay topic 'How can we prepare for exams?' Use the chart above to brainstorm.

While writing your body paragraphs, please keep these points below in mind:

- Use the linkers you have practiced in class so far.
- Try to use the grammar structures you have learned.
- Include some of the new words you have learned so far.

This image shows a single page of white paper with horizontal blue or grey ruling lines. The lines are evenly spaced and run across the width of the page, leaving small margins at the top and bottom. There are no vertical margin lines, and the page is completely blank except for the lines themselves.

This image shows a single page of white paper with horizontal blue or grey ruling lines. The lines are evenly spaced and run across the width of the page. There is no handwriting or other markings on the paper.

Extra Writing Prompts for B1 Level

- 1) What are the benefits of travelling alone?
- 2) What are drawbacks of living in İstanbul?
- 3) What are the advantages of spending time abroad for language learning?
- 4) What are the advantages of being famous?
- 5) What are the qualities of a good university?
- 6) What are the benefits of a healthy lifestyle?
- 7) How can we prepare for exams?
- 8) Why do couples not want to have children?

CHAPTER 6

Linkers and Editing

Exercises

Linkers Part 1

TO LIST AND ADD POINTS

In the first place,	Furthermore,
To start with,	Besides
To begin with,	What's more,
In addition (to this),	Moreover,
Apart from this/ that	Finally,

TO INTRODUCE EXAMPLES

especially	like	for instance	such as	to illustrate particularly	in particular	for example	one example of	namely

- Families, especially those with young children, benefit from the programs offered by the local authorities.
- Pollution has become an unavoidable result of industrial development, particularly in big cities.
- Electromagnetic waves cause important health problems like cancer.
- Mary loves classical music most, but Bach and Vivaldi in particular are her favorites.
- We need to rethink the way we consume energy. For instance, we need to change our approach to transport.
- His achievements as a tennis player are really remarkable. For example, he has won Wimbledon 8 times, more than any other tennis player in history.
- Last summer we visited several Mediterranean countries, such as Italy, Greece, Tunisia, and Spain.
- Many students have negative reactions to exams. One example of these reactions is not being able to sleep the day before the exam.
- There are many ways to improve your English. To illustrate, you can watch movies or listen to TED Talks to make your listening skills better.
- Some groups, namely students and senior citizens, will benefit from the new tax.

TO REFORMULATE

that is	in other words	to put it in a different way
----------------	-----------------------	-------------------------------------

- Good readers should be able to read between the lines; that is, they should be able to make inferences about the information in the text.
- The brochure deals with travelling in Morocco. In other words, it gives information about the transportation, currency, and language there.
- His books were translated into many different languages. To put it in a different way, he was a well-known writer in many different countries.

TO SUMMARIZE

In brief	All in all	To sum up
To summarize	In short	In summary

- It is a love story, the actors performed well, the direction is excellent, the settings are beautiful; in brief, it is a good film.
- Alan has no work experience, does not know Turkish, and has adaptation problems. In short, he is not suitable for the job.

EXERCISE 1: Read the body paragraphs below and fill in the blanks with the linkers given above.
There might be alternative answers for some blanks.

Essay Prompt: Why do people quit their jobs?

The first reason why people quit their jobs is overworking. (1) _____, when people work overtime, this might put their health at risk. Since they need to spend more hours at work than normal, they cannot spare time to relax. (2) _____, they might suffer from stress. Feeling stressed can also result in serious health issues (3) _____ heart attack and depression. (4) _____, spending too much time at work can also influence people's relations with others. Due to their busy work life, these people won't be able to spend enough time with their loved ones. (5) _____, a man who spends long hours in the office cannot make plans with his wife and children easily. Because of this, they can have some problems in their family. (6) _____, people may think about giving up their jobs because of overworking as it can cause problems regarding their health and relations.

Lack of recognition is another reason why people leave their jobs. (7) _____, people may lose their interests in their work if their efforts aren't recognized by their administrators. Since they feel that their efforts aren't given any importance, they will be less motivated than before. (8) _____, these workers will be unwilling to take on more creative projects. (9) _____, if the company doesn't give importance to its employees' hard work or ideas, they might also feel themselves useless. When this happens, employees can start looking for better job opportunities for themselves to make use of their abilities and ideas in a different workplace. (10) _____, people might consider quitting their jobs due to lack of recognition at work.

Linkers Part 2

SHOWING REASON

because	as	since	because of	due to
---------	----	-------	------------	--------

In recent decades, because cities have grown so large, now about 50% of the Earth's population lives in urban areas. There are several reasons for this occurrence. First, because of the increasing industrialization of the nineteenth century, many factory jobs were created mainly in cities. Since these jobs promised a better life, they attracted many people from rural areas. Second, many schools were established to educate the children of the new factory workers. Due to the promise of a better education, many families left farming communities and moved to the cities. Finally, as the cities grew, people established places of leisure, entertainment, and culture, such as sports stadiums, theaters, and museums. As these facilities made city life more interesting than life on the farm, more people preferred to live in urban areas.

Read the paragraph above and answer the questions.

- 1- Why do we use the linkers in bold?
- 2- What about the structure? What comes after because/as/since? Complete sentence (clause) or noun (phrase)?
- 3- What comes after because of/due to? Full sentence (clause) or noun (phrase)?

- ☞ Because/As/Since cities have grown so large, now about 50% of the Earth's population lives in urban areas.
- ☞ Now about 50% of the Earth's population lives in urban areas because/as/since cities have grown so large.
- ☞ Because of/Due to the increasing industrialization, many factory jobs were created.
- ☞ Many factory jobs were created because of/due to the increasing industrialization.

EXERCISE 1: Write "1" for because of/due to or "2" for because/as/since to complete each sentence below.

1. The new university is a good opportunity for students _____ the computer labs.
2. People have started saving money _____ the economic crisis.
3. Many people have to move to cities _____ they need better jobs.
4. Thousands of people die every year in accidents _____ nobody obeys the traffic rules.
5. The income of the country has increased _____ the increase in tourism.

EXERCISE 2: Rewrite the sentences using because/as/since/because of/due to.

1. Because of his illness, the student missed the exam. (since)

2. People move to cities due to high unemployment rate in countryside. (as)

3. The manager had to fire the new employee as he was late to work all the time. (because of)

4. Students cannot concentrate because there is a lot of noise coming from outside. (due to)

5. The crime rate in India has been increasing because of not having strict laws against crime. (since)

Linkers Part 3

SHOWING RESULT

therefore	Hence	as a result of	as a consequence of thus	that is why	as a result	as a consequence

The first and most important effect of pollution is on human health. There are many ways in which pollution affects human health and the first of these is smog. As a result of/As a consequence of exhaust fumes and/or factory emissions, smog occurs in big cities and industrial areas. People who live and work in areas with a lot of smog have to breathe it in. Therefore/Thus/Hence/As a result/As a consequence/That is why, over a longer period of time, they may suffer from lung diseases such as asthma. Another example is the pollution of food and water by poisonous chemicals, often as a result of/as a consequence of waste spillages. People may consume food or water that has been polluted in this way. Therefore/Thus/Hence/As a result/As a consequence/That is why, they can become seriously ill, either in the short or in the longer term.

Read the paragraph above and answer the questions.

- 1- Why do we use the linkers in bold?
- 2- What about the structure? What comes after as a result of/as a consequence of? Complete sentence (clause) or noun [phrase]?
- 3- What comes after Therefore/Thus/Hence/As a result/As a consequence/That is why? Complete sentence or noun (phrase)?

- ☞ As a result of/As a consequence of exhaust fumes, smog occurs.
- ☞ Smog occurs as a result of/as a consequence of exhaust fumes.
- ☞ People may consume polluted water. Therefore, they can become seriously ill.
- ☞ People may consume polluted water; therefore, they can become seriously ill.

Expressions for Showing Results

- It is a well-known fact that stress leads to a variety of health issues.
- Many psychological problems stem from the family relations.
- The reorganization of the company will result in layoffs.

EXERCISE 1: Rewrite the sentences by using therefore/hence/thus/as a result (of)/that's why/as a consequence (of).

1. Some people do not do exercise. Therefore, they easily put on weight. (as a result of)
_____.
2. As a consequence of having an unhealthy diet, many young people suffer from diabetes. (thus)
_____.
3. The government failed to manage the economic crisis. As a consequence, many people lost their jobs. (as a result of)
_____.
4. Everybody has access to the internet because there is new technology in cell phones. (hence)
_____.
5. The government increased the tax on tobacco products. Thus, there was a fall in demand. (as a consequence of)
_____.

EXPRESSING PURPOSE

TO/IN ORDER TO/SO THAT

Electric powered cars are promoted to reduce the effect of global warming. (to + V1)

Electric powered cars are promoted in order to reduce the effect of global warming. (in order to + V1)

Electric powered cars are promoted so that we can reduce the effect of global warming. (so that+ clause)

 Before a negative infinitive, we usually prefer in order to.

In order not to miss the train, I started early. (More natural than 'Not to miss the train, I started early.')

 So that is usually followed by a clause in which we use CAN/COULD.

Julia has taken up a dance class to make new friends.

Julia has taken up a dance class so that she can make new friends.
subject

Lucinda has learned three languages in order to work as a travel guide.

Lucinda has learned three languages so that she can work as a travel guide.
subject

 Do not forget to add the subject and the verb after SO THAT.

EXERCISE 2: Rewrite the sentences using the words in the brackets.

1. He opened the window. He wanted to let fresh air in. (in order to)

He opened the window _____.

2. I took my camera. I wanted to take some photos. (so that)

I took my camera _____.

3. He studied really hard. He wanted to get better marks. (in order to)

He studied really hard _____.

4. Jason learns Chinese. His aim is to work in China. (to)

Jason learns Chinese _____.

5. I've saved some money. I will buy a new car. (so that)

I've saved some money _____.

6. Many people left Turkey in 1960s. They wanted to find jobs in Germany. (in order to)

Many people left Turkey in 1960s _____.

7. She is attending a course. She wants to learn chess. (to)

She is attending a course _____.

8. Linda turned on the lights. She wanted to see the screen better. (so that)

Linda turned on the lights _____.

9. I will come with you. I want to help you. (in order to)

I will come with you _____.

10. I exercise regularly. I don't want to be overweight. (in order not to)

I exercise regularly _____.

Linkers Part 4

CONTRAST

Although	However	Whereas
Despite	Even though	Nevertheless
In spite of	On the other hand

1. In spite of and Despite are followed by a noun phrase or a verb in the 'ing' form.

- ☞ Despite their money, they can't buy happiness.
- ☞ In spite of having so much money, they aren't very happy.

2. Although and Even though are followed by a complete sentence.

- ☞ Although she sang beautifully, she didn't win the contest.
- ☞ I am going out tonight, even though I am really tired.

3. However and nevertheless introduce a new idea which marks a contrast with a previously stated idea. In writing, these words are separated from the sentence they introduce by a comma.

- ☞ She was feeling very ill. However, she went to school.
- ☞ You need some help with your homework. Nevertheless, there are times when no one can help you and you have to do it yourself.

4. 'Whereas' and 'While' links two contrasting ideas. These ideas are not separated by commas.

- ☞ The original movie was quite interesting whereas the remake was really boring.
- ☞

5. On the other hand is used to compare two different facts or two opposite ways of thinking about the same situation.

- ☞ On the one hand, the development of new technology has made our lives easier; on the other hand, it has also resulted in the development of weapons that can kill large numbers of people.

EXERCISE 1: Rewrite the sentences below by using the linkers given in parentheses.

1. In spite of the difficulty of questions, he was able to answer all correctly. (although)

2. Some people enjoy city life. Others prefer the quiet of the country. (whereas)

3. Although we had revised everything a hundred of times, everything went wrong. (despite)

4. In spite of being unattractive, Ann is very popular at school. (however)

5. I enjoy going to the beach, but my husband doesn't. (while)

6. Although he was an excellent actor, he didn't win the Oscar. (nevertheless)

7. Jeremy was very intelligent, but he pretended not to understand. (however)

8. Although she was very tired, she kept on working. (in spite of)

9. Despite having some problems, she finally passed the test. (even though)

10. They have plenty of money, but they are very mean. (although)

Revision

EXERCISE 2: Rewrite the sentences below by using the linkers given in the parentheses.

1. Since life in big cities is expensive, many people prefer living in small towns. (because of)

2. People try to find ways to reduce stress in their lives. For example, some people do yoga or others do puzzles. (such as)

3. People hunt whale in large numbers. Therefore, whales are in danger of extinction. (as a result of)

4. A lot of world famous singers have visited İstanbul in the last ten years. One example of those is Joan Baez. (like)

5. As a consequence of returning the books to the library 2 weeks late, James had to pay a late fee. (therefore)

6. We have talked to many candidates. However, I especially liked the last candidate. (in particular)

7. Some groups like students and pensioners will benefit from the new tax. (namely)

8. The company's financial losses were due to poor management. (as)

EXERCISE 3: Complete the sentences in the correct way.

1. I haven't had much time to study; nevertheless, _____
2. I like living in İstanbul in spite of _____
3. The film won many awards despite _____
4. He's going to work abroad although _____
5. On one hand, my boss can be very understanding, but on the other hand _____

6. In İstanbul, people _____ whereas in İzmir, people _____

Linkers Part 5

SO.....THAT and SUCH.....THAT

So + adj.

The film was so boring.

The puppies were so lovely.

The problem is so complicated.

* In the sentences above, the meaning of SO is similar to VERY.

Such + adj. + noun

It was such a boring film. (article with singular countable noun)

Puppies are such lovely animals. (no article for generalizations)

The problem is such a complicated one. (the singular noun needs an article)

We had such wonderful weather (no article with uncountable noun)

So + adj. + that + clause

The man was so ugly that no women wanted to marry him.

Reason result

The manager was so angry that he fired me because of a little mistake.

Reason result

The team was so exhausted that they had to rest for a week.

Reason result

Such + adj. + noun+ that + clause

He was such an ugly man that no women wanted to marry him.

Reason result

The manager was in such a bad mood that he fired me because of a little mistake.

Reason result

The team was in such bad condition that they had to rest for a week.

Reason result

EXERCISE 1: Fill in the blanks with so or such.

1. The weather was _____ cold that we cancelled the trip.
2. The book is _____ good that I can't put it down.
3. There was _____ a long queue that we couldn't get into the cinema on time.
4. There was _____ heavy traffic that we arrived late.
5. It was _____ a great book that I read it twice.

EXERCISE 2: Rewrite the sentences with so....that and such....that.

1. The candidate was very clever. He could get all the questions correctly.

2. Her response was ridiculous. Everybody started to laugh.

3. The meal is delicious. I cannot stop eating.

4. The flat is very expensive. We cannot afford it.

5. Lucy is a friendly person. Everybody loves her.

6. She was very pleased. She wrote me a thank you letter.

7. They couldn't go out because it was a very windy day.

8. Jessica is a brilliant woman. Everybody admires her.

9. I will never forget Lindsey as I have great memories with her.

BOTH ... AND ... / NOT ONLY ... BUT ALSO ...

We use both to refer to two people or things.

(Both = the two; that one AND the other one; this one AND that one)

Both + Adjective + and + Adjective	I have had a long, hard day and I'm both tired and hungry.
Both + Noun + and + Noun	He is both an actor and a director.
Both + plural noun	She takes both courses.
Both (of) + determiner + plural noun	Both (of) my brothers hate watching football. Both of the recipes are difficult to understand.
When we use Both (without of), we drop the article the.	Both of the athletes were nervous. Both athletes were nervous.
To be + both Both comes after To Be (or an auxiliary such as have or modal verbs).	He is both rich and handsome. My brother and I are both excited about the scores.

NOT ONLY... BUT ALSO ... has the same function as BOTH ... AND ...

When you use not only --- but also in a sentence, you have to ensure that not only and but also go immediately before the words or expressions that they modify.

1) They need not only food but also shelter.

Here we use nouns (food and shelter) after not only and but also.

2) She is not only rich but also generous.

Here we use adjectives (rich and generous) after not only and but also.

3) My uncle not only brought me to the city but also found a good job for me.

Here we use verb phrases after not only and but also.

EXERCISE 3: Combine the sentences using BOTH ...AND or Not ONLY ...BUT ALSO.

1. Trees give us fruit. Trees give us firewood.

2. John smokes. He drinks.

3. Blue looks good on you. Red looks good on you.

4. Eva is intelligent. Eva is hard-working.

5. My teacher wanted me to succeed. My parents wanted me to succeed.

6. Ann has been invited to the party. Mary has been invited to the party.

7. She speaks English fluently. She speaks English naturally.

8. It is important to know the truth. It is important to speak the truth.

9. The war caused destruction and death. The war caused hatred between the two communities.

10. She wrote the screenplay for the movie. She acted a role in it.

Revision

EXERCISE 4: Rewrite the following using the clues in parentheses.

1. The play was very entertaining. Therefore, we stayed until the end. (so)

2. He is a very silly boy. I can't trust him. (such)

3. He was such an aggressive man that everyone hated him. (so)

4. The book was so boring that he didn't finish it. (such)

5. He is very shy. For this reason, he doesn't have a lot of friends. (so)

6. As she is very young, she cannot understand the consequences of her behaviour. (so)

7. Since I was very hungry, I ate the food before it was properly cooked. (so)

8. I could hardly hear them as the music was too loud. (so)

9. I couldn't afford to buy the dress because it was very expensive. (such)

10. He is too proud to admit his mistake. (such)

EXERCISE 5: Rewrite the following using the clues in parentheses.

1. Fred likes helping his friends. Susan also likes it. (both/and)

2. We should learn to accept our weaknesses and our strengths. (not only/but also)

3. He felt disappointed and frustrated after his argument with his partner. (both/and)

4. A true friend is someone who is caring and loving. (both/and)

5. Riding a bike is easy and enjoyable. (not only/but also)

6. My mother is a good cook. She is a talented musician, too. (both/and)

OVERALL LINKERS REVISION

EXERCISE 1: Fill in the blanks with the linkers in the box. There are two extra linkers.

in order to	so...that	shortly	in addition to	since however (x2)	moreover	such...that	whereas

Discoveries and invention of devices are always welcome till we, humans, find a way to abuse its benefits and be negatively affected by it. This was the case when Wilhelm Roentgen discovered x-ray and within five years, the British Army was using a mobile x-ray unit 1. _____ locate bullets and shrapnel in wounded soldiers in the Sudan. TV was also invented with positive thoughts in mind – there would be no national borders, education and communication would be worldwide. 2. _____, we are now trying to overcome its physiological and psychological negative effects on human beings.

One of the physiological effects of watching TV in excessive amounts is eye-strain. It is true that there are specifications for watching TV; TV should be 5 m. away from the eye, there should be enough light in the room, the TV should be placed at the same height with our eyes, etc. 3. _____, these may not prevent our eyes from getting tired if we keep watching TV for a long time. Another effect is obesity, which is widely observed in people who like watching TV and eating snacks everyday (there is even a term “TV snacks” to refer to fast food that is suitable for eating in front of the TV). TV is 4. _____ a powerful machine _____ people cannot get away from it – it is addictive.

5. _____ the physiological effects, TV also has psychological effects. One is a result of being exposed to violence. After seeing so many violent scenes on TV, people start considering violent actions normal and they lose their sensitivity to their environment. Partly connected to this effect, the interpersonal communication among people decreases. Being insensitive to the suffering of other people causes people to become alienated. 6. _____, after coming home from work people seek to relax in front of the TV, and generally people prefer watching TV to talking to each other. This issue is very important 7. _____ lack of interpersonal relationships mostly end with divorces.

8. _____, inventions are meant to be beneficial for human beings, if we know how to benefit from them. TV is one of such inventions that need to be used for the right purpose only – being educated and entertained for a reasonable (according to age) period of time. We may, then, be safe from or at least reduce the adverse physiological and psychological effects of watching too much TV.

EXERCISE 2: Fill in the blanks with the linkers in the box.

such as	as a consequence of	both... and	because of however	Therefore	in order to	although

In the past, most women stayed at home to take care of domestic chores such as cooking or cleaning. Women's liberation and feminism have meant that this situation has been transformed. This has had significant consequences, both in terms of the family, for example by improving quality of life and increasing children's sense of independence, and also for society itself with greater gender equality.

The main cause of more equal rights to women has been women's liberation and feminism. The women's liberation movement originated in the 1960s and was popularized by authors such as Simone de Beauvoir. 1. _____ this, new legislation emerged, which gave women equal rights in many fields, in particular employment. Because of feminist ideas, men have taken up roles which were previously seen as being for women only, most importantly those related to child rearing. As a result of this, women have more time to pursue their own careers and interests.

These have led to some significant effects, 2. _____ to family life _____ to society as a whole. 3. _____ the earning capacity of a woman in her lifetime is generally much less than that of a man, she can nevertheless make a significant contribution to the family income. The most important consequence of this is an improved quality of life. By helping to maintain a steady income for the family, the pressure on the husband is considerably reduced, hence improving both the husband's and the wife's emotional wellbeing. 4. _____, the purchasing power of the family will also be raised. This means that the family can afford more luxuries 5. _____ a travel and a family car.

A further effect on the family is the promotion of independence in the children and women. Some might argue that having both parents working might be damaging to the children 6. _____ lack of parental attention. 7. _____, working parents have positive effects. Children have to learn to look after themselves at an earlier age if both parents have a regular job. Therefore, children become more both independent and responsible. For society, the most significant impact of women going to work is greater gender equality. There are an increasing number of women who are becoming politicians, lawyers, and even CEOs and company managers. This in turn has led to greater equality for women in all areas of life, not just employment. For example, women today have much stronger legal rights 8. _____ protecting themselves against domestic violence and sexual discrimination in the workplace.

In conclusion, the increasing number of women at work has brought about some important changes to family life, including improved quality of life and increased independence for children, as well as affecting society itself. It is clear that the sexes are still a long way from being equal in all areas of life, however, and perhaps the challenge for the present century is to ensure that this takes place.

EXERCISE 3: Fill in the blanks with the linkers in the box. There are two extra linkers.

such as	however(x2)	due to	Whereas	for instance not only but also	thus	so that	even though

History shows that human beings have come a long way from where they started. They have developed new technologies. 1. _____, everybody can enjoy luxuries they never previously imagined. The technologies that are temporarily making this world a better place to live.

2. _____, this could be an ultimate disaster 3. _____ the creation of nuclear weapons, increasing pollution, and loss of animal species.

The biggest threat to the earth caused by modern human activity comes from the creation of nuclear weapons. 4. _____ it cannot be denied that countries have to defend themselves, the kind of weapons that some of them currently use are extremely dangerous. If these weapons were used, they could lead to the destruction of the entire planet.

Another harm which is caused by human activity to this earth is pollution. People depend on modern technology, which can have harmful effects on the environment. 5. _____, reliance on cars causes air and noise pollution. Even seemingly innocent devices 6. _____ computers and mobile phone use electricity, most of which is produced from coal-burning power stations, which further adds to environmental pollution. If we do not curb our direct and indirect use of fossil fuels, the harm to the environment may be a disaster.

Animals are an important feature of this earth and the past decades have witnessed the extinction of a considerable number of animal species. This is the consequence of human encroachment on wildlife habitats, for example deforestation to expand human cities. Some may argue that such loss of species is natural and has occurred throughout earth's history. 7. _____, the current rate of species loss is beyond normal levels, and may become a mass extinction event.

In summary, there is no doubt that current human activities such as the creation of nuclear weapons, pollution, and destruction of wildlife, are harmful to the earth. It is important for us to see 8. _____ the short-term effects of our actions, _____ their long-term effects as well. Otherwise, human activities will be just another step towards destruction.

EXERCISE 4: Rewrite the sentences given below with the words in the parentheses.

1. In spite of the blizzard, they didn't cancel any exams yesterday.
(although)

2. My grandma cannot hear what you say because she is very deaf.
(so _____ that)

3. They decided to have a meeting with the locals because they wanted to learn their ideas about the new regulation.
(in order to)

4. He is so energetic that nobody thinks about his age.
(such _____ that)

5. We didn't go to the concert because of expensive tickets.
(since)

6. I opened the car window to get some fresh air.
(so that)

7. As you are his elder sister, you must take care of him.
(because)

8. Many sportsmen are disqualified because they use illegal drugs.
(as a consequence of)

9. Despite being a world famous singer, he had a life of an ordinary man.
(however)

10. As well as being a jazz singer, she writes wonderful stories and paints great pictures.
(in addition to)

11. Contrary to my neighbors, I dislike using lifts.
(whereas)

12. I didn't follow the 50 kmh limit of the city so I was fined for exceeding the speed limit.
(therefore)

13. The match started late because it was raining.
(due to)

14. As someone had removed all the evidence, it was impossible for the police to continue their investigation.
(thus)

15. The museum has paintings by impressionist artists. For instance, you can see the works of Manet and Degas.
(such as)

16. He wants to buy a car for his son. He wants to buy a motorbike for himself, too.
(not only/but also)

EDITING EXERCISES I

Subject- Verb Agreement & Gerunds and Infinitives

EXERCISE 1: Indicate if the sentences are correct (C) or incorrect (I). Make the necessary changes in the incorrect sentences.

Example 1: I A library contain a lot of books. (A library contains a lot of books.)

Example 2: C Our solar system consists of nine planets.

1. Alex almost never change his mind.
2. The results of Dr. Noll's experiment were published in a scientific journal.
3. The book that I got from my parents was very interesting.
4. The books which I bought at the bookstore was expensive.
5. One of my friends are coming to the meeting with me.
6. Every child needs love.
7. Growing flowers are her hobby.
8. The number of the students in the class is fifteen.
9. Every one of my friends has started working at a job that they like.
10. Making pies and cakes are my mother's specialty.

EXERCISE 2: Find and correct 8 mistakes in the following paragraph.

A new mobile banking scheme have recently begun in Afghanistan. It's a good place to see how mobile banking works in action because the mobile phone network cover every town and city. Under the new scheme, the Afghan National Police has started to pay all salaries through mobiles, and so the policemen doesn't actually receive cash. Salary payments are now made directly to each individual police officer. When a payment are made, each police officer get a text message on his phone. He can then use his phone, via the interactive voice menus, to make payments from his salary. The new system are changing the way the economy works. The Afghan people can control their finances more easily: the cash they used to carry around are now safely in the bank.

EXERCISE 3: Find and correct 10 mistakes related to gerunds and infinitives in the following paragraph.

According to a new study, watch violent TV shows makes it difficult recalling brand names or commercial messages. Violence creates anger, and instead of hear the commercials, viewers are attempting to calm themselves down after violent scenes. The results: Sponsoring violent programs may not be profitable for advertisers.

This conclusion is good news for the parents, teachers and lawmakers who are struggling to limit the amount of violence on U.S. television. They had a small victory in 1997, when lawmakers and the television industry designed a TV ratings system. Unfortunately, Congress did not ask parents participating in creating the system, and the industry does not invite parents previewing shows before it assigns ratings. As a result, parents are still guessing about the content of the shows their kids watch.

Why are we worrying about to reduce television violence? The numbers tell the story: A typical child will see 8,000 murders and 100,000 acts of violence between the ages of three and twelve. It's impossible believing that this input won't affect young children. In fact, researchers have noted three possible effects of viewing this much violence:

- 1) Children may become less sensitive to other people's suffering.
- 2) They may also become fearful of interacting with other people.
- 3) They may be more likely behaving in a way that's harmful to others.

Studies show that a huge majority of people want commercial TV to produce more educational and informational programs. More than 75 % believe in limit the number of hours of TV that children watch. And the American Academy of Pediatrics recommends not permitting children to watch more than one to two hours per day.

It's hard understanding why the entertainment industry resist making changes. Parents, teachers and doctors are urging the industry to develop clearer ratings and get rid of violence in children's shows.

EDITING EXERCISES II

Subject-Verb Agreement & Verb Tenses

EXERCISE 1: Read the paragraph below. Find and correct nine errors with subject-verb agreement.

Gene Guerro has been working at Briteroom for 60 years and nothing have ever prevented him from going to work. Briteroom Electronics are going to be honoring him next month for being the company's longest-working employee. When he first started college, Gene majored in economics. But economics just weren't very interesting to him, so he changed to physics. "There was many exciting things to learn in every physics class. In fact, physics still excite me today," says Gene. "Everybody tell me I should retire." And I say, "why should I do that? Watching TV all day isn't for me. Half of my friends does that, but they aren't happy. Every day are exactly the same for them." As Lucy Guerro say about her father, "Work is my dad's hobby."

EXERCISE 2: Spot and correct twelve verb tense and subject-verb agreement errors in the paragraph below.

Nowadays, families in Brazil is getting smaller. In the past, Brazilian women often has seven or eight children. Today, however, most women thought that two children is enough. Ask any Brazilian women, 'Why do you want only two children? Why not four?' The answer is always the same. 'It was too expensive! It require too much work!' What accounts for this change in Brazilian women's thinking? Why is this happening? One reason is improved education for girls in Brazil. More education mean that women waits longer and had fewer children. In Brazil, TV soap operas is also a big influence. No one can denied the popularity of these programs. People all over the country watches them every evening. In the average program, 90 percent of the female characters are having just one child.

EDITING EXERCISES III

EXERCISE 1: Read the student sample below. Then, spot the 20 verb errors and correct them.

It is difficult to study at an academic level in a second language. You must constantly struggling with course content, which are always complex, as well as language uncertainty. Furthermore, you may has a limited amount of time in which to improve your English and successfully will completed your degree or diploma. You need to learn English to accomplish your goals, also you must to learning English fast.

Your English professors is able to provide you with valuable assistance. They will done their best to develop your language learning skills during class time; they also assigned you homework that will reinforce your skill development. In the same way that a coach helps an elite athlete, your English professors will help you. However, like an elite athlete, you must also be completed some of your training on your own. You should considered yourself an elite academic athlete struggling to achieve a difficult goal.

Think about the number of hours that you dedicated to studying English in one week. It are likely that your English class time, together with the time that it takes you to complete your homework, do not fill up many of the 168 hours available to you every week. If you are only studying English during class time and homework periods, you may not progressing as quickly as you would liking.

If you believed that your English skills should progressing faster, think about how you can learning independently. You may notice that studying at increasingly higher levels at a North American academic institution are force you to learn more independently. Like an athlete in training, you can be studied independently in order to accelerate your progress in learning English.

EDITING EXERCISES IV

Passive & Verb Tenses

EXERCISE 1: Read the paragraph. Find and correct eight errors with passive.

Construction on the Three Gorges Dam on the Yangtze River began in 1994. It completed in 2012. The dam is considered a great success because it has had some positive effects on the environment. In the past, a lot of coal used for energy. Now, the dam generates water power, and the need for coal has been reduced. This means that there is less carbon dioxide in the air. Unfortunately, there have also been some negative effects. Many places were flood because of the dam. Over a million people had to being move. Also the dam located in a region with many plants and animals. Many plant species in this region have harmed by the dam. More could be harm in the future. The dam has also caused changes to the temperature and increased the amount of pollution in the water. This has been threatened the freshwater fish in the area. Changes should make to improve the situation soon. Authorities have promised to make these changes.

EXERCISE 2: Read the paragraph. Find and correct five errors with verb tenses.

Inequality between men and women has started when the first human species came to being. In agricultural and hunting gathering societies, men were responsible for those jobs that required physical strength, whereas women have to stay at home and look after the baby. It's obvious that the males have been physically much stronger than women. Unequal power relations between two genders lead to violence, to which especially women have been exposed. Thus, this issue became so important that it needs to be talked about, discussing the reasons for violence and possible solutions.

EDITING EXERCISES V

MIXED

EXERCISE 1: Read the student essay below and find the mistakes. Then, correct them.

Essay Prompt: What are the advantages of living abroad ?

Have you ever thought about living abroad until today? Majority of scientists and psychologists think that living abroad have lots of advantages. Frankly, it has been proven according to the research. So what are the advantages of living abroad? There are two advantages of living abroad: learn a new culture and meet new people.

The most noteworthy advantage of living abroad is people can learn a new culture. To start with, learning a new culture comes with learning a new language. Because of a language is a doorway to a particular culture, learning a new language helps a person to get the understanding of its culture. As a result of, if you are multilingual, you have the advantage of seeing the world from different points. Secondly, learning a new culture creates curiosity. Also, learning other cultures will make you more motivated to see what it is really like. Being curious creates an interest in understanding the similarities and differences between your culture and others. In conclude, learning a new culture most notable advantage of living abroad.

The second important advantage of living abroad is that meeting new people. To begin with, you can improve their social skills by making new friends. Also, meeting new people give a chance to people for more relationships in the society. Such as, people who are able to make a relationship can develop their social skills easier. In addition, meeting new people can increase your quality of life. Getting along with people will open up many personal and career-related doors because meeting new people helps people to make a large social network. Therefore, people can improve their professional life. In briefly, meeting new people is one of the advantages of living abroad.

To sum up, learning a new culture and meeting new people are two benefits of living abroad. In my opinion, people who having this chance are very lucky because these people can improve themselves in different fields. For this reason, everyone should think that living abroad is an important chance for a quality life.

APPENDIX

PROCESS WRITING EXAM

In the Process Writing Exam, you will be responsible for writing two body paragraphs. The introduction will be done for you. You won't have to write the introduction but you will only complete the thesis statement with two supporting ideas. Remember from Chapter 1 that these two supporting ideas will be the topics of Body 1 and Body 2. Do not forget that each body paragraph should have a topic sentence, two supporting ideas and a concluding sentence. Each body paragraph should have at least 100 words with level appropriate grammar and vocabulary. Please analyse the paragraph grading criteria.

*Here is the format of a sample Process Writing Exam:

Exam prompt: 'What are the qualities of a good friend?'

WRITING THE FIRST DRAFT

Write your body paragraphs below.

People all live in a society, which is a community of different groups. These groups consist of people from the same family, work place, school or social environment. People are in contact with others all the time because they want to socialize. Most of us see our classmates or workmates every day. We talk about our daily routines, share our problems or give advice to each other. Among all these people, our friends are the most important to us because we prefer to spend most of the time with them and we enjoy doing things together. What makes a good friend? The two most important qualities that a good friend should have are _____, and _____.

(BODY1)

(BODY2)

To sum up, a good friend should be _____ and _____. Living on your own cannot be fun. We all need to share our feelings with others. Exchanging ideas and spending quality time together are an indispensable part of people's life. All these make us happier members of the society. Therefore, having a good friend is essential.

Before you start writing your essay in the Process Writing Exam, you will have 10 minutes to brainstorm on a separate sheet of paper, which is not graded. While writing the essay, you can use your cheat sheet which you have prepared. A cheat sheet is a list of words on a 1 page A4 size paper only in English. Sentences, paragraphs or grammar rules are not allowed on the cheat sheets.

	Organization	Content	Grammar	Lexis	Drafting
10-9	Produces a fully coherent and cohesive paragraph making full and appropriate use of a well-structured organisational pattern and a wide range of cohesive devices Topic sentence and closing sentence are both stated clearly and placed correctly.	Produces a well developed paragraph that fully addresses one main idea to answer the question at hand There is appropriate number of supporting sentences. Exemplifications/details /reasoning are well-developed.	Has a wide range of level-appropriate grammatical structures almost always used accurately Errors are minor and infrequent	Sophisticated range of level appropriate vocabulary Control over word forms Almost impeccable spelling	Comprehensive and accurate changes based on feedback made where necessary
8-7	Produces a coherent and cohesive paragraph making satisfactory use of an organisational pattern and a range of cohesive devices but which may be mechanical or formulaic in places Topic sentence and closing sentence are both stated clearly and placed correctly.	Produces a well developed paragraph which sufficiently addresses the question at hand There is an adequate number of supporting sentences. Exemplifications/details /reasoning are satisfactory.	Has a good command of level-appropriate grammatical structures with a satisfactory range Some errors exist, but they do not lead to misunderstanding	Sufficient range of level appropriate vocabulary A few word formation errors Spelling mostly accurate with a few errors	Most changes made but with some mistakes not addressed Clear attempt to address all mistakes.
6-5	Produces a relatively coherent and cohesive paragraph with a basic organisational pattern, using some cohesive devices Topic sentence and closing sentence are both stated clearly and placed correctly.	Produces a paragraph which provides basic coverage of the question at hand There are adequate number of supporting sentences Exemplifications/details /reasoning may be repetitive or insufficient.	Has a limited range of level-appropriate grammatical structures OR has a satisfactory range but with limited accuracy Errors may hinder communication, although meaning can be discerned from context with little effort	Somewhat sufficient range of level appropriate vocabulary Some word formation errors that do not impede understanding Noticeable errors in spelling	A few organizational and content changes made. / Changes somewhat made All grammar edits attempted, mostly successfully
4-3	Produces a simple paragraph-like structure using only high frequency cohesive devices (i.e. pronouns and linking words) Topic sentence and/or closing sentence is unclear and weak.	Produces writing which partially addresses the question at hand or contradicts it There are fewer the adequate than number of supporting sentences. Exemplifications/details /reasoning are underdeveloped and repetitive.	Has an unsatisfactory range of level-appropriate grammatical structures Frequent language errors may affect understanding throughout	Limited range of level appropriate vocabulary Frequent errors of word formation that confuse meaning Too many spelling errors	No organizational changes No content changes Only grammar edits
2-1	Produces a simple written text (not in paragraph form) Topic sentence and/or closing sentence is non-existent.	- Produces a simple written text that shows minimal coverage of the question at hand. - Supporting sentences are missing	Range and/or accuracy of grammar structures fall significantly short Errors impede understanding	Range and accuracy of lexis fall significantly short with many errors	Only some accurate grammatical changes made
0	NOT ENOUGH OF A SAMPLE TO GRADE				Very few or no changes made

TIMED WRITING EXAM

In the Timed Writing Exam, you will be responsible for writing a complete essay. The essay must consist of an introduction, two body paragraphs and a conclusion. If we put the paragraphs in order of length, we can see that the conclusion is the shortest, then comes the introductory paragraph and finally the longest are the body paragraphs. The essay must be minimum 300 words long. Please analyse the essay grading criteria at the back.

Let's analyse a sample essay:

Essay prompt: 'What are the benefits of games for adults?'

Games and Adults

For some of us, life is too short while for others it is just too long. There is no doubt that most of us aim at enjoying life. Just imagine how boring life would be without having fun. Amusement can be in various ways. Some like relieving stress at nightclubs but others stay in and watch a movie. The most popular method of entertainment is obviously games. Adults enjoy playing various games depending on their interests and age. Adults play games to relax and to maintain good relationships with family and friends. (92 words)

The major reason why adults love games is that they can relax. First of all, when adults play games, they can have a chance to take a break. If they play any kind of game indoor or outdoor they can feel better and free of stress. To illustrate, Google can be the best place to work as they have various games to play at their office. They have the opportunity to play board games, card games or video games. Moreover, they can forget about the problems at work at least for a few minutes. When they go back to work with their refreshed minds, they can solve their problems easier because it is hard to find a solution when you are under pressure and stress. All scientists agree that video games develop the ability to focus. In brief, grownups need games to avoid stress. (144 words)

Another reason why adults play games is that they maintain good relationship with family and friends. To begin with, playing games brings people together. Their relationships get better during the game. To illustrate, in Taiwan, people look forward to the coming of Chinese New Year every year. Not only do families stay together but they also enjoy playing games on these days. People feel happy to stay with their families and they all enjoy the game. In addition, people chat and tell stories to each other while they are playing games. It is a good opportunity to catch up with family members. It also makes them share fun and enjoyable moments. Children can learn from the elderly ones and everyone can share their experiences and thoughts. As a result, playing games helps adults have a good relationship with people around them. (142 words)

To sum up, adults prefer to play games to rest and strengthen bonds with family members as well as friends. In my opinion, playing games is not just for children. Our bodies grow older but our souls do not. Games brought us happiness during childhood and they will definitely continue to do so.

(53 words)

Essay Grading Criteria

	ORGANIZATION	CONTENT	GRAMMAR & PUNCTUATION	LEXIS
10	• Introduction begins with a hook or general statement that grabs attention • Introduction successfully narrows down to the thesis • Introduction ends with an explicit thesis statement with a clear stance • Body paragraphs contain clear topic sentences, elaborate on the thesis, are appropriate length, and are well-connected with transition words • Conclusion summarizes the main points in the body or restates the thesis, and finishes with a concluding remark	• Fully addresses the question at hand • All main points are elaborated and explained thoroughly with sufficient supporting details that provide full reasoning and exemplification • Paragraphs are very clear, coherent, and unified	• Skillful command of language with almost no grammatical errors • Level appropriate and varied sentence structure • Almost impeccable use of punctuation and capitalization	• Sophisticated range of level appropriate vocabulary • Almost no word formation errors and almost impeccable spelling
8	• Introduction has a hook or general statement but may not successfully connect to the thesis statement • Introduction somewhat successfully narrows down to the thesis • Introduction has a clear thesis statement, previewing supporting ideas • Body paragraphs have satisfactory topic sentences and elaborate on the thesis statement with sufficient use of transitional signals • Conclusion summarizes the main points, but might have repeated the thesis word-for-word	• Sufficiently addresses the question at hand • Presents a developed and sufficient argument • Main points are supported with information that provide adequate reasoning and exemplification • Paragraphs are clear, coherent, and unified	• Good command of language with minor grammatical errors that do not impede understanding • Level appropriate sentence structure and adequate range • Good use of punctuation and capitalization	• Sufficient range of level appropriate vocabulary • Few word formation errors with mostly accurate spelling.
6	• The hook or general statements do not lead to the thesis statement / narrowing down not successful / may start too general or too specific • Attempt to create a thesis statement, but may be unclear or may not pose a stance • Topic sentences are unclear/weak or not well connected to the thesis • Body paragraphs are too short or not divided proportionately or not well-connected with insufficient use of transition signals • The arguments are somewhat reviewed in the conclusion / a new idea might be introduced	• Somewhat responds to the question at hand • There may be more than one central argument / some supporting ideas may be irrelevant • Content may have inadequate or excessive information or examples • Repetition of ideas either in the same paragraph or other paragraphs • Some effort may have been made to write coherently and clearly	• Some structures are accurate but sentence structure errors predominate / many minor errors that at times confuse • Only a limited range of level appropriate sentence structure/ attempts to use level-appropriate sentence structures with some mistakes • Limited command of punctuation and capitalization	• Somewhat sufficient range of level appropriate vocabulary • Some major word formation errors and spelling errors that do not impede understanding

4	• There is an introduction but there is no hook or general statement, or general statements leading to thesis are irrelevant or non-existent. • There is a thesis statement but it is vague, or weak. • Topic sentences are non-existent or they are contradictory to the thesis and /or they do not correspond to the thesis. • Disproportionate paragraphs and use of only simple transition signals • The conclusion lacks a summary of the body / the arguments are not reviewed	• Barely responds to the question at hand. • Main argument may be too vague, weak, or underdeveloped/ Several arguments may have been made, but no central idea is in focus • Presents inadequate information with little or no supporting details • Limited clarity, coherence, or unity	• Weak command of language with many grammatical errors so much as to hinder comprehension • Sentence structures below level expectations / only simple sentences • Use of punctuation and capitalization below level expectations.	• Limited range of level appropriate vocabulary • Frequent errors of word forms that confuse meaning with many spelling errors
2	• Produces a simple written text (not in essay form) that lacks cohesion. Inappropriate paragraphing, no thesis statement, no conclusion	• Fails to respond to the question at hand. • Produces a simple written text that shows minimal coverage of the assignment/task. No consistency, no unity. Not enough ideas or information to support ideas	• So many grammatical errors that comprehension is impossible	• Range and accuracy of lexis fall significantly short with too many errors in word formation and spelling
0	NOT ENOUGH OF A SAMPLE TO GRADE

Bibliography

Cupery D. & Gönel S. (2012) Sharpening Academic Skills. Istanbul: Istanbul Technical University.

Cetinkaya, B. (2012) Proficiency Practice: Istanbul: Istanbul Technical University.

Folse, K& Pugh T. (2010) Greater Essays. Boston: Heinle Cengage Learning

Karabağ, A. & Carney, J. Supplementary Material for the 2nd Spam. Istanbul: METU

Oshima, A. & Hogue, A. (1999) Writing Academic English. NY: Longman.

www.freepik.com

Prepared by

Katerina M. BCIHAKSIZ

Merve Demirkapılı

Selda Ünvar Yılmaz

Emine Bülür Civanoğlu

Frank Payne

Gullipali Duolikun